

Mrs. Collett's Homework Policy

Students who do not turn in homework when it is due will receive an "Oops" sheet and sign in to our class "Oops Book". The "Oops" sheet must be signed by a parent and returned to school the next day with the missing assignment. Students who do not return the assignment and "Oops" sheet will stay in for lunch that day. During that time they will write a letter to their parents explaining which assignment they forgot and what strategy they intend to use to ensure it doesn't happen again. This letter will be sent home for a parents/guardian's signature and returned with the missing assignment.

- Students will miss five minutes of "Friday Free Time" for each late assignment. If the assignment(s) are still incomplete by "Friday Free Time", the student will be required to work on the assignment(s) during this time.*
- Any student, who has successfully turned in all homework for an entire marking period, will have bonus points added to his or her grade at the end of the marking period.*